SUMMARY | I'm a driven results-motivated individual with more than 10 years in the production/supply chain field. In 2015, I transitioned into the craft beer industry. I've been able to transparently apply my background in program management to my roles in craft beer.

As a manager, my organization and a clear perspective on logistics has differentiated me from my peer group. My naturally engaging personality has allowed me to build ongoing business and personal relationships throughout the industry. Clear expectations and empathy make me a great supervisor and leader.

I'm seeking roles that will deepen my knowledge of beer and will allow me to contribute to the success of a brewery, distributor, importer, or retail business I believe in.
